Good news – your weekly administration fee is decreasing

As a super fund that's built to benefit members, we work hard to keep your fees as low as possible. Find out how you'll soon benefit from lower fees.

We regularly review the fees you pay to ensure you're getting the products and services you need at a competitive price. As a result of our most recent review, your weekly administration fee will drop to $1.50 a week from 2 July 2022.

The weekly administration fee covers the day-to-day management of your account. This includes things like providing you with online account access, responding to your account queries and processing your contributions.

Your total administration fees are made up of a weekly and percentage fee. The percentage fee hasn't changed and remains at 0.19% of your account balance each year – up to a maximum of $1,000 a year.

Example – what could this mean for you each year?

Sam has $50,000 in his Cbus account. Here's an example of the total administration fees he'd pay each year before and after this change. This is made up of the weekly fee plus the percentage fee.

Before 2 July 2022	From 2 July 2022
$2.00 weekly fee: $104 per year	$1.50 weekly fee: $78 per year
+	+
0.19% of account balance: $95 per year	0.19% of account balance: $95 per year

Lowering your weekly fee will save you $26 a year.

This means more money for your future.
